read and approved,
The following Message was received from his Excellency Governor Harris through the Secretary of State,

Executive Office
Memphis February 20. 1862,

Gentlemen of the Senate And House of Representatives,

Under your joint resolution adopted the 10th of February inst, providing "that the Governor and Heads of Executive Departments may at any time during the present war, by Proclamation of the Governor, temporarily change the seat of Government, remove the Archives and re cords of the Executive Departments, and the Governor by ~~his~~ proclamation shall convene the Legislature when he deems it necessary, at a place determined upon as the temporary seat of Government;" and the report of a Legislative Committee from the House which called upon me on the 16th inst, to inform me that the Legislature was ready to meet at such time and place as I might designate - I deemed it my duty to remove the records of the Government to, & Convene the Legislature at this City, for the following reasons;

The disaster to our arms at Fishing Creek had turned the right flank of our army, and left the Country from Cumberland Gap to Nashville exposed to the advance of the Federal army,

The fall of Fort Henry had given the enemy the free navigation of the Tennessee river, through which Channel he had reached the Southern boundary of Tennessee, and the fall of Fort Donelson, left the Cumberland river open to his gunboats and transports, enabling him to penetrate the heart of the State, and reach its Capital at any time, within a few hours, when he should see proper to move upon it,

Immediately upon hearing of the fall of Fort Donelson, I called upon General Johnston to tender to him all the resources of the State which could be made available, with my full Co-operation in any and all measures of defense of our State & Capital,

General Johnston informed me that under the Circumstances which surrounded him, with the small force then under his Command, he regarded it as his duty to the army he commanded & the government he represented, to fall back with his army South of Nashville, thus giving no defense of the City, and that he would do so immediately upon the arrival of the army from Bowling Green,

The necessity for this retrograde movement, I am certain, was deeply regretted by General Johnston, who could have deplored it more seriously than myself,

You have for months past, witnessed the constant and earnest efforts which I have made to raise troops, collect arms, & prepare them for the field, for the defense of our long line of frontier, but it is evident that the Country has not been sufficiently aroused to a full sense of the dangers with which it was menaced,

While it is true that Tennessee has sent large numbers of her sons to the field, who are performing their duty nobly and her people have shown a high degree of Energy in developing all the resources of the State, which could aid the Government in this struggle; it is equally true that there is scarcely a locality within our limits which could not have done, and which cannot now do more,

Many weeks before this crisis in our ~~affairs~~ affairs, Gen Johnston sent a highly accomplished officer & able Engineer, Major Gilmer to Nashville, to construct fortifications for the defence of the City; Laborers were needed for their construction,

I joined Major Gilmer in an urgent & earnest appeal to the people to send in their Laborers for this purpose, offering full & fair Compensation,

This appeal was so feebly responded to that I advised Gen Johnston to impress the necessary labor, but owing to the difficulty in obtaining the laborers, the works were not Completed; indeed some of them little more than Commenced when Fort Donelson fell,

Under the act of 6th May 1861, I raised, organized, armed, and equipped a large volunteer force, but under the military law and the act of the General Assembly it was made my duty to transfer that army, with all of our munitions, to the government of the Confederate States, which I did on the 31st day of July 1861,

Since that time I have had no authority to raise, or means of subsisting a State army, being only authorized to raise, organize, and put into the field such troops as were demanded of the State by the government of the Confederate States, that government having control of the defenses of the State as well as our munitions and means of defense,

Since the passage of the act of May 1861, I have organized and put into the field for the Confederate service fifty nine regiments of infantry, one regiment of Cavalry, Eleven Cavalry battalions, and over twenty independent Companies, mostly artillery,

The Confederate government has armed about fifteen thousand of these troops, but to arm the remainder of this large force, I have but to draw heavily upon the shooting guns of our citizens,

Having been very energetic to fill the requisitions made by the Confederate States for troops, when Fort Donelson fell there was not a single organized armed Company in the State subject to my Command, the only force under my Control being an undisciplined, unarmed Militia, which, under our inefficient and sadly defective Militia system, I have had no power to discipline, drill & prepare for service in the field. Under these circumstances, when the Confederate army fell back from the Capital, leaving it exposed to the assaults of a large army of the enemy, it would have been worse than folly in me to have attempted its defence,

There was no alternative left but for the Officers of the Government to remove the Public records to a place of greater security, & to allow themselves and the records to fall into the hands of the Federal army, resulting in the subversion of the State Government and the establishment of a Military despotism - or a Provisional government, under Federal authority, over the people of the State. I could not doubt or hesitate as to my duty under such circumstances,

Having assembled here at a period when a part of our territory is overrun, and other portions seriously threatened by the invader, the one great duty which devolves upon us is the immediate adoption of such measures as will concentrate every possible energy and all the resources of the State in a determined effort to drive back the invader, redeem every inch of our soil, and maintain the independence of our State,

By a majority approximating unanimity, we have voted ourselves a free and independent People, Shall we falter now in maintaining that declaration at any cost, or at any sacrifice? The alternative presented to us is, the maintenance of our independence, however long or bloody the struggle, or subjugation, dishonor, and political slavery,

I trust there are very few Tennesseans who can long debate which of the two to Choose?

The apprehensions which I entertained, & the dangers of which I summoned you in my Special Message of the 1st inst. have been fully realized by the Country; & the necessity for prompt, energetic and decided action is even more imperative now than at that time,

I now respectfully repeat to you the recommendations of that Message, and earnestly urge that you do amend our Militia System as will not only enable the Executive to fill promptly all requisitions made by the Confederate Government upon Tennessee for her just proportion of troops but also give full power to discipline and prepare her efficient service in the field the whole Military Strength of the State, Classifying the Militia so that the burthens of our defence will fall upon the young and vigorous, who are best able to bear them. I also recommend that you authorize the organization of a part of the Militia into Cavalry & Artillery Corps, as well as Infantry; and in all instances where it is deemed proper to call out the Militia, authorize the reception of Volunteers in lieu of the Militia so far as they may present themselves, and for the present defence of the State I recommend the Passage of a Bill authorizing the raising, Arming and Equipping of a Provisional Army of Volunteers, & appropriating ample means for this purpose,

Believing that at least one fourth of the present Military Strength of the State can be armed by Collecting all the Sporting guns in the Country, I have ordered that proportion to be placed in Camp, immediately,

Appropriations to equip, pay, Subsist & clothe this force while engaged in the Public defence, will be necessary,

While there is much to regret in the past, there is much to hope in the future, Over failures of the first revolution experience more serious reverses and many darker hours than any we have known, yet they did not falter until their independence was achieved,

Tennessee holds her fate in her own hands; a fixed and unalterable resolve, a bold, firm & unerring effort to maintain our independence at any and at all hazards, gives us the means of repelling the invader at once,

The Confederate Government is sending her legions to our aid our Sister States of the South are rallying their gallant Sons to the rescue,

Let Tennessee remember that the invader is upon her soil; that her independence & the freedom of her People from tyranny & oppression are involved in this struggle, & putting forth her whole strength, act as becomes the high Character which the gallantry of her Sons has won for her on other fields,

Respectfully,

Isham G. Harris.

Resolved by the General Assembly of the State of Tennessee,

That our Senators & Representatives in the Congress of the Confederate States of America at Richmond, be and they are hereby requested to introduce a bill in the Confederate Congress asking an appropriation sufficient to construct a Railroad from Cleveland Bradley County to the Copper Mines in Polk County Tennessee, and are hereby requested to use all laudable means to procure the passage of said bill,

Said Copper Mines are the only mines in the Confederate States that are now in Condition to furnish any considerable amount of Copper which is deemed to be indispensable for Military Purposes, this measure is urged by this General Assembly as a great Military necessity, as it is believed that unless better facilities are offered for transportation the working of said Copper Mines has necessarily to cease,

Resolved further That the Governor of the State of Tennessee be & he is hereby requested to forward a Copy of this Resolution to our Senators & Representatives in Congress at Richmond, at his earliest convenience,"
